

Hair Analysis Program

Introduction

After receiving phone calls from all over the world, I had to research a reliable way to help people who cannot come into the office.

I discovered, through my research, analyzing DNA in the hair to find the solutions to today's chronic health problems.

Now there is a way for everyone to get the same benefits without coming into the office.

Here's how it works. You send a hair sample to my office and I will find the DNA weaknesses. Based on your past medical history and current symptoms I create a custom herbal program for you.

This program allows you to get the results without having to come into the office.

Exact instructions are found in the back of the form.
